

Parent Agreement*

As the piano year begins, I will:

- “Own” my role in the “Magic Triangle”— Parent + Student + Piano Teacher. Our teamwork leads to success in piano.
- Read through the updated studio policies of Karen Hunter Piano Studio.
- Encourage my child as he/she attempts to practice piano for 30 consecutive days. I understand that if my child misses a day of practice, he/she must start over in the attempt to practice 30 consecutive days..
- Remember that KHPS has a policy of no makeup lessons. I understand that I may arrange a lesson swap with another child if a conflict arises.
- Remember that my child’s piano commitment lasts for the entire piano year (September through May).

I understand that every week I should:

- Monitor my child’s practice—from the bench (younger students) OR from a distance (older students).
- Complete the parent log on the front of my child’s piano folder. I understand that I need to verify my child’s readiness for the day’s lesson AND initial the log. If only one column or neither column is complete, I understand that my child’s lesson evaluation will be impacted.
- Doublecheck that my child has all needed lesson materials in his/her piano bag.

Recital Participation:

I understand that my child’s participation in the spring recital (March 10, 2024, 4 PM) is optional.

My child WILL / WILL NOT participate.

Student Agreement*

As the piano year begins, I will:

- Work with my parent to create a manageable weekly practice schedule.
- Attempt to practice piano for 30 consecutive days. I will be honest as I mark my contest sheet. If I miss a practice day, I understand that I will need to restart the contest.

Every week I will:

- Complete the student log on my current assignment sheet. This means that I will mark the days I practice piano each week. To begin with, I understand that every day should be marked as I’m trying to practice for 30 consecutive days.
- Receive a lesson evaluation on my piano folder.
GREEN = Well prepared | YELLOW = Somewhat prepared | RED = Needs more practice time
- Doublecheck that I have all needed lesson materials in my piano bag.

On practice days I will:

- Open my piano folder to the current assignment sheet to make sure I’m practicing exactly what has been assigned.
- Mark my practice and indicate that I’ve completed my theory assignment or played the assigned game (WunderKeys) on the current assignment sheet.
- Play each piece multiple times until it gets better (the definition of “practice”).

On practice days I won’t:

- Play my assigned pieces one time through as quickly as possible and call that practice.

Recital/Chapel Participation:

- I understand that my participation in the spring recital is optional. If participating, I will prepare faithfully.
